Levels of Competition:
Please refer to the Alabama 4-H Competitive Events webpage to review the General Contest Policy and the Age & Eligibility Chart.

The basics are pretty simple:
- Stories may be told individually or by two people telling a story in tandem. Teams and individuals will be judged in the same event.
- In Junior/Intermediate Level events, stories should be 2 to 4 minutes for individuals and 4 to 6 minutes for two people.
- In Senior Level events, stories should be 8 to 10 minutes and 10-12 minutes for two people.
- For Seniors, an additional two minutes should be used to briefly tell about your service component. The judges will have questions which are not included in your time limits.
- Seniors must complete a Community Service Report.
- It is not planned that microphones be used, so story tellers are free to move around.
- Your story must be told without notes.
- You may use simple props which do not distract from your telling of the story.
- Your story should be something you learned to tell this year.
- Try to tell a story that has not been used in 4-H before.
- Costumes are acceptable, but are not required.
- Your story may come directly from a book or another source or it may be adapted or your own original story.
- For Senior Level events, there must be a community service component such as telling your story to youth or at a community event.

Have I Got A Story! lets you:
- Demonstrate your ability to speak before an audience.
- Share your thoughts and feelings.
- Entertain others.
- Build your confidence.
- Provide a community service that is enjoyable and meaningful.

What You Will Learn:
- How to choose a story that fits your audience.
- How to make decisions in presenting your story.
- How to deliver your story before a live audience.
- How to interpret an existing story or create a new story.

Who Can Participate:
Any Alabama young person may participate in any 4-H competitive event. However, you must be a member of an Alabama 4-H Club. It's easy and quick to join – just call or e-mail your county Alabama Cooperative Extension System Office for information.

If you and your friends would like, you might start a 4-H Interest Club that focuses on your topic. For more information, see Starting a 4-H Club (www.Alabama4H.com).

Have I Got a Story! is a 4-H Event. Your local Extension Office has information on local and regional/area events, as well as other 4-H activities.
Identification of Entry

Name(s), county and level of participation should be displayed with each entry. An introduction at the beginning of your time would be appropriate.

Parents’ & Volunteers’ Guide

Like all 4-H projects, this activity is just for young people. It is expected that the young person create an original quilted object. The role of adult helpers is to support and encourage youth in their efforts, to ask and answer questions about the project, and to help youth learn specific techniques that they might use in their project.

The Community Service Component:
Learning to tell a great story is a wonderful thing, but you will need to put your new skill to work. There are some real benefits for you. Serving others helps you build your academic skills, learn civic responsibility and develop leadership. It may also give you a good opportunity to meet new people, publicize 4-H and practice your communications. You will need to complete a 4-H Community Service Report.

It is important that you decide what service you can provide, not have a parent or 4-H leader make this decision for you. Groups of young people are encouraged to work together to discover how they can serve their community.

What Are Some Ideas?
You probably have some great ideas of how to use your story telling to serve others, but here are a few thoughts to get things rolling:

- Organize a story-telling festival or talent show. Could it be a fund raiser?
- Help younger kids practice story telling or video tape them telling jokes.
- Tell stories to children or to older people in your community. Do the older people have stories of their own to share?
- Provide entertainment to a youth group or service organization.

Remember: always identify yourself as a member of 4-H and a participant in the Alabama 4-H Storytelling Event.

TELLING YOUR STORY:

- Practice introducing your story. Figure out a good way to introduce yourself.
- Pause before you begin. Look at your audience and make sure you have their attention. Think of the first line of your story, take a deep breath, release it, and begin your story.

- Speak clearly and pronounce words correctly.
- It is important to be able to see everyone and for everyone to be able to see you. When you look at your audience, you involve them in your story. If you look mostly at the floor or ceiling, the audience might think that you are afraid of them or not interested in them. Remember you want to share your story with the audience.
- It is important to know your story well enough to be able to tell it smoothly, without stumbling over words or forgetting important parts of the story. If you do forget your story - don't panic - pause, picture where you are in the story and pick it up again.
- Tell your story at a comfortable pace - not too fast or not too slow. Remember, a common fault of storytellers is telling the story too fast. Use appropriate pauses to provide a feeling of suspense and anticipation.
- Everyone feels nervous. Feel your feet on the ground. It helps to take a deep breath. They are on your side and are looking forward to hearing what you have to say. Think of the audience as your best friend.
- If you use gestures, they should feel comfortable to you and make your telling of the story better.
- Project your voice so the person in the last row can hear you.
- Use your voice to help express your story. For example, use it to show surprise, sadness, happiness, or disappointment.
- Try to hold the audience's attention throughout the story. A good storyteller can make the audience see what is happening.
- Be dynamic! Put yourself into the telling!
About Judging:
When you tell your story, the judge or judges won’t listen for small details, but for how well you create your characters, the quality of the story you selected and your enthusiasm. They want to be entertained.

Eye contact with the judge and audience, your posture, the clearness of your speech, and your effective use of gestures and movement, are also important to the judging.

Making Your Way through Competition:
4-H Regional/Area Awards will be determined by the planning committee for that event. Notice will be sent to each county involved.

State Competition and Awards
Each county may register one Senior Level I and one Senior Level II individual/team in each event that is offered.

On the state level, ribbons will be awarded to 50% of the participants in a contest using ordinal rankings up to a tenth place ranking. Example: If there are 10 participants, first place will receive the Alabama State Trophy and a first place ribbon; placing ribbons will be awarded for the next four ranked participants for placing of second through fifth. The other five participants will receive honorable mention ribbons.

Disqualification of Entry
- There are no obvious reasons for disqualification with this category. Youth are cautioned that language, gestures and subject matter should be appropriate for the age level and the audience. Disqualification may occur if the facilitator and the event review committee consider the material in-appropriate.

Deductions of Entry
- Exceeding the time limit.

Alabama: Operation Military Kid
- For anyone who is in the Operation Military Kid this project would be an ideal way to share their experience. Choose from the cultural and heritage that your family has experienced. This can be in another state or on the other side of the world. Tell your story in an interesting and fun way. If you need suggestions, please contact the OMK Coordinator, Rachel Simpson, 334-844-2294. All 4-H projects and events are open to OMK youth. For more information www.Alabama4H.com

Examples of Service Projects:
- I visited a class of 20 1st Graders and got them to tell stories about their pets. This helped them learn to talk in front of a group.
- I got kids in my Club to help me plant pansies in the flower bed at the library. They learned good gardening technique and provided something pretty for our community. We put up a sign: “Flowers provided by the High Hopes 4-H Club.”
- My friends and I participated in the Community Arts Festival. We displayed our quilts in a 4-H booth and taught younger kids how to make quilt square designs using glue and paper.
- I grew lots of squash in my garden. I took some to the Food Bank and gave some to elderly neighbors. I put 4-H Clovers on the paper bags.

Estimated monetary value: $__________
What do you think your service was worth to the community? You can estimate the dollar value of the volunteers’ time. For youth, value their time at minimum wage, $7.25/hour. For adults, use $21.36/hour.
