

2005 Project Summary

Title: Proper scheduling of subsurface drip irrigation (SDI) for corn production.

Investigators: John Fulton, Mark Dougherty, Charlie Burmester, Larry Curtis, David Harkins, Chet Norris

Results:

There are no results to report. The required monitoring equipment arrived late during the growing season and could not be installed until after the fall harvest. We plan on fully implementing this study for the 2006 growing season.