

Day in another Country

Purpose: This activity helps foster and understanding of other cultures by acknowledging the similarities and differences between people around the world.

Description: Get groups of students to do research addressing what life is like in another country, including foods, history, music, art and crafts, sports, etc. Then, students have a day to present the information. They can also set up the classroom or area where the activity is taking place like the assigned country. A variation of this activity could be to set up different spaces (classrooms, tents, etc) as representative of different continents and get students to go around the world. Get creative!

Go to: <http://www.ipl.org/kidspace/browse/owd0000> to learn about religions, languages, geography and culture around the world.