Hoover's Groovy Gardeners

Nationally Recognized:

Another 4-H Success Story

At Aldridge Botanical Gardens in Hoover, fourteen Junior Master Gardeners have an important job! And they've been recognized for how well they do it! They were selected October's National JMG Club of the Month -- one of the best clubs in America! Hats off to club volunteer leader, Vasha Rosenblum and the Groovy Gardeners.

Perry/Wilcox Youth Initiative
Crosses the Great Divide:
Another 4-H Success Story

In many areas of Alabama, there is a great division of THEM and US – based on race, economics, and other factors. Thanks to the leadership of Katrina Easley and Pam Stenz Counties, a group of thirty high school students in Perry and Wilcox Counties have made steps at crossing that divide.

The Perry/Wilcox Leadership Initiative, made possible by a grant through the 2007 Rural Alabama Initiative Grant program, was great fun and a wonderful learning experience for a diverse group of juniors and seniors from public and private schools from the two counties. These students have participated in Health Day in Selma and in “County Day,” where they learned more about government and industry in their counties.

The students also went on a retreat at the 4-H Center where they participated in team-building exercises and an interactive leadership development program presented by Dr. Jennifer Kerpelman from AU.

Lauderdale County 6th graders Explore Lego
Robotics
Another 4-H Success Story

Twenty-four 6th graders at Kilby School spent three weeks on one of Lauderdale County 4-H’s newest projects, Lego Robotics.

The Lego Robotics program helps students develop life skills in addition to meeting science, math and technology curriculum needs. The students worked in six-person teams. Each was given a specific role, such as leader, builder, programmer, or communications specialist. They learned to use the robot’s sensors and software. They then presented a robot of their own design. Agent Assistant Janet Lovelady said “As soon as they were comfortable with the new technology, the students wanted to forge ahead on their own. They’ve really put their minds to the task and stepped up to the challenge.”

Mrs. Debbie Christopher, Gifted Specialist, and Mrs. Sharon Warren, Media and Technology Specialist, at Kilby School coordinated this opportunity for their students.

Want to make photos small enough to e-mail? Right click on the photo’s file. Choose Open With. That should give you an option like Microsoft Office Picture Manager. Choose Picture. That will allow you to both Resize the photo and to Compress the file into a smaller size. Right-clicking works on pictures that already in documents too!
