Celebrating the Diversity of Families

Websites
- A Look at Alabama Families
  www.aces.edu/urban/familywebsite

Programación de Español
- Hispanic publications on various subjects
  www.aces.edu/urban/spanishindex.html

Urban Affairs & New Nontraditional Programs
www.aces.edu/urban

WECAN4U
- Find employment in Alabama & West Virginia
  www.wecan4u.net

Urban Affairs offers a selection of programs targeted to individuals, children, and families in the areas of parenting, consumer education, health & nutrition, domestic violence, diversity, pet care, divorce, legal education, gardening, and youth development.

For more information about Extension programs, contact an Extension Urban Center, county Extension office, or call (256) 372-5710.

Note: Contact hours and professional development & continuing education units will be awarded.
About the Keynote Speaker

Dr. David Satcher was sworn in as the 16th Surgeon General of the United States on February 13, 1998. He is one of two individuals who simultaneously held the positions of surgeon general and assistant secretary for health. Today, he serves as director of the National Center for Primary Care at Morehouse School of Medicine in Atlanta, GA.

Dr. Satcher lends his expertise on general and emerging health issues such as obesity, mental health, bioterrorism, sex education, HIV/AIDS, and suicide. He is a strong promoter of the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services’ national agenda Healthy People 2010 and for the establishment of effective community healthcare systems. Extension is honored to have him appear as the keynote speaker for its 6th Annual Family Conference.

About the Conference

The Annual Family Conference is an Extension medium to address timely issues affecting families, children, and individuals. The Family Conference combines communities and the voices of professionals and paraprofessionals in a number of fields with an interest in families and children.

The focus of the 2004 Family Conference is on nutrition and health as it relates to promoting healthy lifestyles across an individual’s lifespan or life stages.

2004 Conference Objectives

Promote healthy lifestyles including physical, mental & environmental health

Empower participants to select, prepare, and consume a safe & healthy diet

Build the competency of participants to deliver comprehensive programs for family development

Enhance the capacity of participants to identify resources for family-centered communities

Promote nontraditional community partnerships to address issues affecting families, children, and individuals

Promote ethics-based practices

Registration Form

• $75 Early-Bird Registration thru August 13, 2004
• $95 Registration from August 13 – October 1, 2004 (Above fees include Reception & Conference Lunch)
• $95 On-site Registration – October 14 (No Lunch)

Name ________________________________
E-mail ________________________________
Business/Organization __________________________
Title/Occupation __________________________
Address ____________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________
City ____________________________
State __________  Zip ______________
Daytime Phone (with Area Code) ____________________________

Make check payable to: Urban Extension

Mail to:
Susan Glover
Alabama Cooperative Extension System
P.O. Box 967, Normal, AL 35762
Phone: 256-372-5710/Fax: 256-372-5840

Contact Information:
Event Chair: Dr. Donnie Cook at 256-372-4983
Registration: Susan Glover at 256-372-4946
Publicity: Wendi Williams at 256-372-4953
Exhibits: Edna Coleman at 256-372-4979

Visit us online at: http://www.aces.edu/urban