Youth Ag Day Set for March 17 at Agribition Center

Normal, AL, February 2018---The Alabama Cooperative Extension System's Urban Affairs and New Nontraditional Programs in partnership with Alabama State Representatives Laura Hall and Anthony Daniels will hold the first Youth Ag Day for children and teens ages 8 to 18 on Saturday, March 17 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. This event will be held at the Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University's Agribition Center located at 4925 Moores Mill Road in Huntsville.

The theme for this day-long event is "Ideas to Grow With" and will feature educational interactive activities such as a scavenger hunt, hands-on demonstrations, and a farm-to-table journey. Youth will have a chance to explore agricultural careers, and activities will be available for parents as well. Admission is free and lunch will be provided.

"Youth Ag Day is a great opportunity for youth and their parents to engage in fun interactive activities as they learn about innovative ways to grow food and the farm-to-table process," stated Youth Development and Volunteerism Specialist Kimberly Neloms.

Registration is limited to the first 100 registered students and the deadline to register has been extended to March 6. Visit <http://www.aces.edu/urban/youthagday/> to register online. Students must also complete the Youth Consent Form that can be found on the registration site or at www.aces.edu/urban. Please turn in the form on the day of the event or email to Kim Neloms at burgeki@aces.edu.
